

Marc Béland

Marc was a member of the Canadian Union of Postal Workers from 1981 to 1998. In 1986, he is elected to the executive of the local and starts to participate as a member of the local health and safety committee. He worked on several health and safety files including asbestos remediation at the Ottawa Mail Processing Plant, and a study of repetitive strain injuries.

In 2008, he leaves Canada Post to join the Labour Program and a Health and Safety Officer. In 2010, he becomes involved in his local as the health and safety representative. In 2014, he becomes the health and safety representative for the PSAC NCR region.
